

ENERGY OFFICE

State of South Carolina
Accredited Commercial Energy Manager Program
October 16-19 • Columbia, SC

This advanced-level 3½-day training provides the following professionals a thorough overview of the many factors that affect facilities energy consumption as well as a foundation for identifying energy-saving investment opportunities:

- State government, local government, schools, and college employees
- Energy provider commercial consumer service employees
- Provide sector energy managers and vendors

This is an advanced class that will be taught at a college level. It assumes attendees have completed residential energy auditing training and/or have a solid foundation in energy management science. It also assumes that attendees are proficient in Algebra 1 and plane geometry.

Attendees will be completing between two and three hours of homework each night. There is a stringent examination on the morning of the fourth day. Persons scoring a passing grade will earn the State of South Carolina Accredited Commercial Energy Manager designation. The instructor will be Jim Heritage, LC, CEM.
